

Boeka / Buka: Breaking fast across the Indian Ocean - Iftar at KITLV with the TASTE Project

The TASTE project warmly invites colleagues and friends to join us for an iftar gathering. Boeka (Cape Malay) and buka puasa (Malay/Indonesian/Sri Lankan Malay) both signify the act of breaking the fast.

Across the Indian Ocean world, this moment brings together food and forms of communal belonging.

Program

- 17:00: Mini presentations by TASTE researchers
- 18:00: Q&A
- 18:30: Closing of academic part
- 18:40: Breaking fast together, followed by Maghrib prayer*
- 19:00: Communal meal of shared dishes & drinks
- 20:00: End

Please bring your own prayer mat if you wish to join the prayer*

Date & time

Wednesday 11 March, 17.00-20.00 PM

Venue

KITLV, Herta Mohr building, room 1.30 & common space, Witte Singel 27 A, Leiden

Registration

kitlv@kitlv.nl

More information

kitlv.nl/event/taste-iftar/

All attendees are encouraged to bring a small dish or drink to share, so that we may collectively partake in the meal. Rice will be provided. All are welcome, whether observing Ramadan or joining in collegial reflection and exchange.

